

Omar discovered a hidden garden behind his house.
It was full of colorful flowers — and they could talk!

When Omar felt tired or sad, he sat with the flowers.
They told him fun stories, whispered happy thoughts, and helped him feel calm again.

Each day, he felt better and stronger inside.

He smiled and said,
“This place heals my heart.”

Nature can be magical — and it always listens. 🌻🌿
